Filberto the Tinker was here the other day, talking up a storm about a Tuning Fork that Gregory Ironhand made long ago. However, it was made out of simple iron and has already worn out. He wishes to make another one. However, he has no real good idea how to do so. The best advice I could give him was to ask the other Tinkers, and to get back to me if successful.
